FastTrac Implementation

Eagle's turn-key implementation package ensures that the customer gets up and running as soon as possible. Our FastTrac Implementation package includes any and all of the following:

- Production of a detailed project plan including specific tasks to be completed, necessary resources, and a time line for completion of the tasks.
- Installation, configuration, and testing of the product in the client's operating environment.
- Determination of which modules will be used, as well as how the database will be populated. This can be done through data conversion, data import from another source, or a manual build.
- Building of the databases.
- Conducting training for the client and the end-users. On-site training is tailored to the specific needs of each set of users so that everyone learns the portions of the software critical to their success.
- Launching the software.
- Verification that the objectives defined at the beginning of the project have been met.

Features

- FastTrac Implementation ensures timely installation; includes on-site training, guarantees successful data population, allows for complete testing of the system before "real world" implementation.
